If you need assistance paying for your college education, you should contact the financial aid office.

Additionally, you can typically go to the financial aid office to:

- Learn about both federal and private student aid options, including aid programs for NJCU

THE OFFICE OF STUDENT ACCOUNTS (BURSAR)

The specific role of a bursar is to manage student billing. It is the office you will go to pay your bills, and within that office, they can also help you set up a plan to pay your tuition in installments if that is something you and your family need to do. As the financial administrator in charge of making sure that tuition bills are paid on time, the bursar will be the one to let you know if your bills are late. Sometimes if bills are very late, they will assess appropriate fees.

What is the difference between bursar and financial aid?

Financial aid is responsible for determining a student's eligibility for aid and providing funds to cover tuition, fees, and other expenses. The bursar's office is responsible for billing and collecting tuition and fees.

Other things we do:

- Cashiering: posting payments, providing payment options, account inquiries, issuing student refund checks, and administering monthly payment plans.
- Billing: produce and send electronic billing statements, follow-up notifications, and third-party invoices.
- Collections: delinquent student accounts, manage outside collection agencies.
- IRS Form 1098-T Tax Forms: produce and provide students with Tuition Statements according to federal guidelines.

THE OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR

The Registrar's Office is the "Keeper of the Academic Record." Our job is to ensure integrity and accuracy in your academic history. At NJCU, we facilitate your registration, update your record, evaluate transfer credit for those studying abroad, and provide services such as transcripts and enrollment verifications for scholarships.

We provide reports to the university to assist decision-making and departmental course planning, provide enrollment information to student loan lenders for deferrals and confirm V.A. benefits and NCAA eligibility. At the end of your time in college, we audit your record, clear you for graduation, and calculate honors.

TIPS to be successful from the Registrar's Office:

- Always check your e-mail from the Office of the Registrar!
 - o Any e-mails you get from the Registrar are really important. We'll alert you to specific deadlines or information about your registration or academic record, which could impact your graduation!
- Understand Dates and Deadlines
 - o Colleges and universities have many important deadlines for students, and the Registrar's Office publishes all of this information in our Academic Calendar. These deadlines are important for registering, scheduling changes, clearing any holds, taking advantage of new course opportunities, and applying for graduation!
- Understand FERPA
 - o The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 is a federal law that protects one's right as a student to privacy over their academic record.
 - o Parents will need to have written approval from their student on file with the Registrar's Office to access certain information regarding their student.

It's important to know your rights under FERPA. These include:

- The right to view your education record
- The right to request an amendment to your record if you believe there is an error
- The right to consent to disclosures of your information, except in cases where FERPA allows disclosure without consent, including to school officials with legitimate educational interest or verification of directory information
- The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education regarding a non-compliance with FERPA

NJCU SOCIAL SERVICES

THE GOTHIC KNIGHTS FOOD PANTRY (GKFP):

is open to all students and the community to address food insecurity. Food insecurity has increasingly become an issue on college and university campuses and can pose a significant barrier to student success. The pantry is stocked with different foods as well as hygienic items. The pantry is on the first floor of the Gilligan Student Union Building (GSUB).

THE GOTHIC RACK: provides all students access to new and gently used professional attire for interviews, career fairs, networking events, and the workplace. The goal of The Gothic Rack is to remove financial barriers that may prevent students with the highest need from looking and feeling their best during the internship and job search process. Any items taken from the closet are free of charge and yours to keep. Students are allowed to take two professional outfits per semester. No returns are necessary. The rack is located in GSUB 211.

JBJ SOUL KITCHEN NJCU: is a nonprofit Community Restaurant that serves healthy and delicious three-course meals to guests across the campus community, regardless of your ability to pay. NJCU students experiencing food insecurity may volunteer their time by participating in various activities around the restaurant or other campus locations to help cover the cost of their meals. We offer a Pay It Forward Program, where each additional $12 donation provides meals to those who cannot donate. When you Pay it Forward, you help your community members with food insecurity experience a fine dining experience. JBJ Soul Kitchen is located on the second floor in GSUB.

SWIPE OUT HUNGER: is a national nonprofit committed to ending campus hunger to help college students reach their potential. Swipe Out Hunger mobilizes students to donate their extra meal swipes to their food-insecure peers for use at campus dining facilities. You can donate funds in the GET App or Card services (H114). If you need meals, a staff member from Gourmet Dining or the Dean of Students can assist you with attaining swipe-out funds that can be used at NJCU dining services.

THE COMMUNITY CENTER, located in GSUB 106, links students with resources that empower and enhance self-determined success. The Center strives to provide equal access to such resources that those who benefit without asking are often taken for granted. These comprehensive resources include food and housing insecurity, nutrition and hygiene, professional clothing, mental health counseling, financial literacy, and the rights of undocumented students.
