Dear Colleagues,

I am writing today with a call for volunteers for participation on the MSCHE Self-Study Team.

As you know, NJCU is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE). Every eight years, accredited institutions engage in a self-study process to demonstrate compliance with MSCHE Standards and Requirements. We begin our preparations this semester, which will involve creation of a self-study document and will culminate in a site visit by MSCHE peer evaluators in 2019-2020.

Self-Study is an opportunity for the campus community to engage in analysis of our policies, processes, programs and services in light of our institutional goals and the MSCHE standards. I am pleased to announce that Professors Tracy Amerman and Fran Moran will co-chair our Steering Committee. Sue Gerber will serve as an ex-officio member of the Committee. On their behalf, I am sending this call for volunteers to participate on the Self-Study Team. To express your interest, please submit your name to MSCHE2020@njcu.edu by October 23.

Broad engagement is critical to ensuring an honest, thoughtful, and useful self-study process. Feel free to contact Tracy (tamerman@njcu.edu), Fran (fmoran@njcu.edu), or Sue (sgerber@njcu.edu) with questions. The co-chairs will also conduct informational meetings to explain the self-study process and answer questions about participation. Dates and locations are below.

- October 11: Informational Meeting, 2:30pm-3:30pm, MPR A
- October 18: Informational Meeting, 2:30pm-3:30pm, School of Business Skyline Room
- October 23: Deadline to volunteer to participate
