

Professor Jeanette Ramos-Alexander

BRIEF BIO

Professional: Professor Jeanette Ramos-Alexander brings extensive professional experience in financial management positions in pharmaceutical, chemical, consumer products organizations to her present teaching responsibilities. As a former Director of Finance and Administration for a specialty chemical company, she was responsible for all aspects of financial reporting and planning, development of management reporting and analysis systems as well as all human resource functions. A two-time recipient of the Who's Who in America's Colleges award, Professor Ramos-Alexander participates in numerous School of Business and university level committees and initiatives, including accounting curriculum realignment for the revised CPA exam, Senate committees for Planning, Development & Budget and Graduate Studies as well as the university level Promotions committee and Strategic Planning Council. Additionally, she is the former chair of the university Council of Hispanic Affairs. A featured seminar speaker for the Institute of Management Accountants and the N.J. Department of Labor; Professor Ramos-Alexander brings a practical yet scholarly approach to the learning environment by blending insights gained from consultation with corporate clients; public service organizations and professional societies.

Background: Jeanette's mother and father (Antonia & Carlos) originally immigrated from Cuba and Mexico, respectively. Although neither parent attended high school in their native countries, they instilled an appreciation of the value of higher education as a path to success. Professor Ramos-Alexander, along with her sister Liz and brother Kenneth, were the first generation in their family to attend college.

Interests: Jeanette is a member of kayaking, sailing, cross-country skiing groups and several local book clubs. She resides in Keyport, N.J. and loves almost all water activities.
