

MOSHE BRAUNSTEIN
62-59 108 Street
Forest Hills, New York 11375
1 (646) 573 - 1534
Email: moshebraunstein@yahoo.com

Work Experience:

2008 – Present Adjunct Instructor of Sociology, New Jersey City University
Teach primarily Introductory courses in Sociology to undergraduates with an emphasis on the main concepts and their applications to the modern world. Assist students also in improving writing and research skills by assigning and evaluating written papers throughout the term.

2009- Present Adjunct Lecturer of Sociology, Touro College, New York City;
Teach primarily Introduction to Sociology to adult learners and students from diverse Backgrounds. Blend important topics of the field with contemporary social issues and New York City neighborhoods and matters.

2009 - 2012 Adjunct Instructor of Political Science, St. Peter's College, New Jersey. Taught introductory and some advanced classes in the field of Political Science. Supervised student research projects. Helped lead stimulating discussions. Fairly evaluated student progress each semester.

2000-2010 College Assistant/Tutor John Jay College, CUNY
Assisted students in improving writing, test-taking, research, and related skills in English and Social Science courses.
Helped conduct workshops and some study sessions.

1995-2000 Social Science Instructor, Empire State College, NYC,NY
Conducted lectures/study groups with professional adult learners within the Social Science fields. Supervised student research projects and presentations.

1991-1995 Tutor, Manhattan Community College, CUNY
Helped various students improve writing & research.
Went over basic concepts and test-taking techniques of various Social Science courses.

Education: Queens College of the City University of New York
Master of Arts in Urban Affairs (6/91)
Queens College of the City University of New York
Bachelor of Arts in History (2/89)

Skills: WordPerfect, MicrosoftWord, Writing/Research, Internet