

Overview

In May 2016, University Advancement and the Office for Institutional Effectiveness collaborated on a graduating student survey. Advancement staff administered the survey during commencement gown pick-up. A total of 1160 graduating students completed the survey, 877 undergraduates, 274 master-level students, and 9 doctoral students. This document reports on responses from the undergraduate and master levels (referred to as graduate).

Respondents

Most individuals indicated their primary major only, so this classification is used throughout this report. The distribution of major for respondents is generally consistent with the University, with psychology and criminal justice having most responses at the undergraduate level and education at the graduate level.

Internship experience

It was rough in the beginning. The Criminal Justice Department needs to reconsider some professors such as Passante and allow others. To teach Criminal Procedure. He has a one way mind and it doesn't really matter how hard you work you can say the same thing he saying and then still mark your answer wrong

Joining my sisterhood (sorority) I got an internship and loving family because of them also love S OME of the faculty and professors were awesome!!!

Meeting dr. Bailey and professor Lamar.

Meeting my bff

Meeting Professors that made a difference in my learning experience such as Professor Brody, Professor Cosgrove, Professor Shea, and Professor Ho.

Meeting the criminal justice professors

My most memorable experience was when I went to the office. They told me that because my gpa is 3.64 for the last semester, I cannot receive a honors cord even if I did recieve a 3.65 or higher which is the least gpa that is acceptable for an honors cord. I think that that is unfair because I believe that if I worked hard for an honors cord, I should be able to wear one even if it was at the end of my semesters at the school. I do not know if I will reach higher than expected because my grades are not in yet but I do believe that if I or any student reaches the acceptable level of gpa, even at the last minute, an honors cord should be an option for them to wear. I do

Most Memorable Moment, Undergraduate
